Career and Life Planning Education Annual Plan 2016-17

I. SWOT Analysis

A. Strengths

- Students in senior forms are relatively keen on careers planning and guidance.
- Most parents are well-educated and financially sound. The PTA and parents are also supportive.
- Parents and students are aware of the need for careers experience exposure.
- With over 140 years of history, SJC has a lot of alumni who are very successful and outstanding in various professions, who can provide students with mentoring and assistance for further education and career opportunities. SJC alumni are enthusiastic and the Old Boy Association work closely with the school. Projects like the Mentorship Program organized by the OBA are expanding both in terms of number of mentors and students.
- The setting up of professional groups like the Legal Chapter, Financial Chapter and Medical Chapter by the OBA provides encouragement, role models, scholarships and experience sharing opportunities for our students with career aspirations similar to their fellow Josephians'.
- The school made use of the Career and Life Planning (CLP) Grant provided by EDB (starting from 2014/2015) to employ a full-time CLP counselor and a teacher who enhances the capacity of the Careers Department to implement the life planning education.

- The school has been selected as one of the five network schools of the Career and Life Adventure Planning (CLAP) for Youth Project, which is initiated by the Hong Kong Jockey Club Charities Trust, and co-organized with the Chinese University of Hong Kong and the Hong Kong Baptist University. The school could provide quality career and life planning services and programmes with the assistance of the school-based team of the CLAP project.

B. Weaknesses

- Almost all of our students will eventually pursue post-secondary education in local or overseas educational institutions. Some of the students and parents overlooked the importance of preparing and equipping students with appropriate work values and attitude during their secondary education.
- Students often over-estimate their readiness for work life and do not feel the need for early career / education planning. Students might miss some better opportunities for their further studies because they lack sufficient pre-planning.
- Parents often dominate their children's further education and career planning. This might affect students' personal development and individual fulfilment of aspirations.
- There has been personnel change in the Careers Team in the past few academic years. Some of them have comparatively less experience in career counseling.
- Students are sometimes too involved in ECA activities and overlooked other aspects of their school life.

C. Opportunities

- The New Senior Secondary Curriculum includes Career-related Experiences as part of the Other Learning Experiences. Careers guidance / further education material could be incorporated into the school curriculum.
- EDB has provided more resources (e.g. grant, seminars, guidelines) to cater for the need of increasing students' careers exposure.
- A recurrent cash grant (i.e. the Career and Life Planning Grant amounted to $493,340 in 2014/2015) is provided to eligible schools, starting from 2014/2015, to enhance and enrich career and life planning education elements for students.
- Since EDB takes the lead of promoting Career and Life Planning Education, NGOs, tertiary institutions and some business organizations are providing more career-related information and services.

D. Threats

- Under the NSS academic structure, HKDSE is the only public examination which is a significant factor in determining the career path of students. Hence, there is an emerging need for students to make wise and informed career choices and plans in early stage of secondary school life.
- There is a drastic change in the admission criteria of students by local universities. Similar situations can be found in students who would like to further their studies in the UK. Students need new strategies for careers / further education guidance under the education reform.
- The new career and life planning education exerts great pressure on the members of Careers Team and form teachers. Teachers are required to attend structured training on life planning education in the coming years.

II. Objectives

It is hoped that with the provision of effective careers guidance and life planning education, students can make wise and responsible career choices in accordance with their interests, abilities and orientations, and can continue with their life-long career development.

We aim:

- A. To incorporate career and life planning education into school curriculum and activities.
- B. To assist students to make wise and informed career decisions with reference to students' interests, abilities and orientations.
- C. To raise students' awareness of the importance of life-long career development planning.
